

How do we consult at Hillinger+Partner (H+P)?

★ Holistic and sustained

All 4 components - people, structures, technologies, processes - are considered separately but also particularly in the comprehensive, well-coordinated and harmonic interaction. How do skills, flexibility, functionality, culture, responsibility and workflow act together? The basis for this are the roots and the identity of the company and its long-term future.

★ Individual, confidential and with outside view:

Each client has his own vision and is unique. Therefore, we work with our clients on customized solutions and concepts. All individual customer informations H+P obtains within the consultation time will be kept confidential and not disclosed to third parties. Our customers do not appear in a reference list. We yield an open and critical view from outside and strong empathy for the customer.

★ Cognitive and practice oriented:

The client will receive the latest knowledge and methods for working out his requirements. Contributed is an international network of concrete and practical experience with know-how for application / branch / market / technology. We moderate the customer teams so that the slumbering know how / potential will be disclosed and used among the employees of the company

★ Efficient, engaged, factual, passionate:

Fast and with as little effort as possible the agreed goals are pursued. We strive objectively cool and / or with fire according to the optimum for you and your company.

★ Creative and implementation friendly:

We think in alternative and innovative scenarios for the successful design of our clients future. We consider all criteria also through the lens of the customer, taking into account the company's existing competences and capabilities. We develop solutions, concepts and measures that can be implemented and achieve the appropriate effects.